- Pictures supplied by you to best show off your boat, supported by other material which may be available relating to your model
- Description, Specifications and Inventory as YOU would like it described
- A PDF doc based upon the above information which visitors to your site can download to view and print your boat specifications, inventory, and other details.
- Hits counter so you can see how many have viewed your boat details
- Email links from your mini- website to whatever Email address(es) you wish.
- A standard "Bill of Sale" document which you may choose to use when finalising the commercial transaction between you and your buyer. This is based upon the Bill of Sale Template document available on the web-site of the MCGA, but also includes the full specification and inventory of the boat you are selling.

What we need from you:

A gallery of digital pictures. The more the better. Don't worry about re-sizing or retouching them, we can take care of that and optimise them for the web, as well as cropping and re-touching, editing out stuff in the foreground or background, etc. Ideally these should consist of:

Interior pictures, such as:

- saloon
- bunks
- heads
- galley
- chart-table
- navigation instruments
- VHF
- Stereo
- Engine-bay
- Exterior pictures.
- Cockpit (showing lockers, tiller /steering binnacle, spray-hood, dodgers,winches, etc
- Your boat on a mooring, a marina berth, at anchor, underway (especially under sail if possible).
- Any other images or pictures you think would add to her appeal.

A Full set of specifications and inventory of the boat and everything you plan to leave aboard when you sell her. Don't forget to include:

- number of engine hours
- Date last serviced (and what was done)
- Date of last rig-checks (if applicable)
- Date of last survey (if applicable)
- Some history of improvements, modifications, etc that may have been done
- A floor-plan of your boat, of the type you see in adverts provided by brokers and Luhrs web-sites, etc (we can probably get this if you are unable to) .
- Any reviews (or web-links) of your boat type that may be available on the web.
- Your contact details, day/eves telephone number, email

What happens next:

We will create a mini web-site for your boat using a standard layout and incorporating the words and pictures supplied by you. You will have the opportunity to review and validate the information that will be placed on your mini-site before it goes "live" on the Legends4Sale website.

All that you then need to do is take out a low cost advertisement via the boating and yachting publications ensuring that your advert includes a Web URL (link) to your mini-site.
